Doing your own

"Doing your own thing" — it might be a trite saying left over from the early '70's, but it served to describe the variety of activities that students are involved in. It might be a Saturday night at Pat's or a trip to a state convention with the ICT. Your "own thing" might be giving the best tune-up in Auto Mechanics, getting your solo just right for band competition or solving a problem on the computer. Fun could come from those things as well as parties with friends or a trip to the Styx concert. There's just no limit to what students find fun to do.

Pep Rallies can really be a lot of fun, especially when there is a dress up day Pep Rally.

Everybody seems to enjoy the dressing up and being whoever they want. Many students and even teachers participated that day.

The return of a homecoming parade was what really made Homecoming '78 special, if a poll taken afterwards was any indication.

"Homecoming really brought out the spirit and pride everyone has for our school," one student said. Another noted, "It made us feel more independent and like adults because the floats and decorations were our designs."

Parades are only done in even-numbered years, Mr. Rex Glover, principal, said, because it keeps the spirit and enthusiasm high. But many students surveyed, especially freshmen, felt that an even more elaborate celebration — like an all-afternoon festival — would be even better.

Float competition was won by the FBLA club and the best car was decorated by. Of added interest this year was a float for all past Homecoming Queens.

Wish every day were Saturday night

The excitement of the lights flashing, cars going down main and the adventurers of the night. This all happens on Saturday nights.

On Saturday nights couples going out, groups of people meeting at Gibsons parking lot and everybody just acting a little crazy. "What do you want to do tonight?" This question always arises on Saturdays. "Well we could go out of town, go to Pat's or just drive around town."

Asked what Donnie Hohmann does on weekends, he commented "going out of town to the lake, go to Pat's and "parking." If you have a date, you could take her to the show, eating out, and if you like good country dancing, you have your choice of Pat's Hall or Cherry Springs. Both offer good entertainment. If you prefer disco dances, there is the Chalet in Kerrville, or on Friday nites, the Baron's Club. There is one problem about these dances, you have to be 18 years of age to get in, this is because of the alcohol sold there. There are many nice places to go. San Antonio offers a variety of shows, different places to eat out, and for the race car lovers there is a "Malibu Grand Prix Speedway." This offers the feel of the road with a miniature Indy car. Whatever you decide to do, there will be a variety of things, so it won't turn out to be a bad Saturday night after all. (Photos by Ruth Klaehn).

Billie Fever — Is it an epidemic or a virus? No, it's pride that grips Fredericksburg High School at every football game, basketball game, or any other sport that Fredericksburg competes in. To the Cheerleaders, Pep Squad, and Goatherders, Billie fever is a game called "Pass it on."

It's yelling at every game, or whipping up excitement at every pep rally. Passing it on to the participants, the student body, and the spectators.

So maybe it is an epidemic, where everyone catches the fever of winning, and the excitement of being number 1.

Danger on 'smokin' Tivydale Dragway

One tiny piece of paper — the pictures change, but the thrill that comes to the recipient when he or she receives it is the same.

Getting a driver's license is often one of those high points in a person's life.

In spite of vows to mom and dad that you'll never speed — or even run a stop sign, everyone ends up breaking the traffic laws at one time or another.

The accident reports testify to the fact that teenagers sometimes speed. Anything from bumped fenders to serious injuries can result. Even death has struck FHS students too many times. But some people just can't resist challenging someone to a race or seeing just how fast their car can peel out.

In it's place, racing can be fun — and not too dangerous. But it takes an adult, not just someone with a driver's license — to know the difference.

Photography students — those are the people well acquainted with the mysteries of UFG, SLR's, RC paper and a lot of other smelly chemicals they'd probably rather forget. Students in Mrs. Cathy Collier's classes not only learned the basics of taking, developing and printing their own pictures, they also learned the frustrations of setting up a club picture and not having the club show up; going to print pictures in the darkroom, only to find someone else has taken your time or trying to write captions for pictures.

In this second year of the photography classes' existence, 54 students were enrolled for either one or two quarters. They shared the darkroom with Comet and Mesa staffers.

Second quarter students produced a slide show — actually three shows — that they wrote, produced and scripted. Third period produced two shows — "SuperStudent" and "A Visitor from OuterSpace". Fourth period's contribution was based on the theme of role-reversal. What if students were teachers and vice versa?

"The slide shows were useful learning tools for the students," Mrs. Collier said, "They learned about setting up scenes, communicating ideas on film and that is what photography is all about."

A. It's a bird, it's a plane — it's Superman? Joe Beckendorf makes a valiant attempt to look like "The Man of Steel" for the class' project. How to make a buck the Most students in high school have a part time job which they go to after school. This helps to pay for a car if they own one and also leaves you with a little petty cash to spend. ICT and DE are one of the many vocational programs which a student may choose to get a job and also to receive credit for working. A job makes a person feel responsible, and also teaches them how to relate to people, how to organize themselves, and many other things. (Photos by Sheila Tatsch)

Juniors: Jesse Aleman, Deanne Heinen. Sophomores: Kathy Ristau, Kay Oldham, Jeff Brown. Freshmen: Marcie Jenkins, Susan Murphy.

The teachers also participated in the fun but their score did not count. Members were David Mayfield, Calvin Yarborough, Charles Haas, Don Brookshire, Terry Bonn, Ann Henk, Gayle Hewell, Diane Lindner, Pat Seeds, Carol Nunez, Henry Ross, Jean West.

The different events included: Tow-sack race, Volkswagen stuffing, stilt relay, balloon relay, wheelbarrel relay, tractor tire roll, tug-a-war, egg toss, obstacle course, and barrel roll.

The winning trophy went to the Fredericksburg Red team that scored 90 points. Comfort had 49, Fredericksburg White team had 47, Harper 42, Johnson City 34.

Everyone could participate in the Fun Fest either by helping in concession stands or getting in on a laugh.

What was it like in paradise? head

What really happened when Adam took a bite of the forbidden fruit? "The Diary of Adam and Eve", adapted from one of Mark Twain's stories, attempted to answer this question.

The play, "a comedy with depth and meaning," according to director Mrs. Marjie Young, was chosen for entry in one-act play competition.

Because it involved a lot of pantomiming, the set was very basic, including only six pylons and a ladder. Only three characters appeared on stage. Scott Poehlmann played Adam, LuAnn Klier was Eve and Brenda Schneidewent was the snake.

Getting down to basics for Adam, and Eve involved donning skin-colored tights. With no elaborate costumes or sets to "hide" behind, characters had all attention focused on them, and that made the roles even more difficult.

Six schools competed against Fredericksburg in west zone UIL competition, and even though the play did not get to continue to regional, several performances were staged afterward for the public.

Crew for the play included David Novian, Bruce Reeh and Glen Dietrich. Judy Reeh handled the lighting.

Nineteen down and as many to go as possible — sweepstakes, that is.

The Pride of the Texas Hill Country again upheld their unmarred record of nearly two decades by impressing judges during marching contest in the fall and concert and sightreading competition in the spring.

While the band kept up their winning tradition, they also broke with tradition and took on a new look. New "corps-style" marching, a flashy new 16-member flag corps and new uniforms backed up halftime shows.

Before marching competition this year the band entered the Westlake Marching Contest in Austin — "for a challenge", according to Mr. Bill Brady, band director. When the competition was over, FHS walked away with first place.

That was a preview of things to come. Even though the day of UIL marching competition was rainy and miserable, the band spirits weren't dampened and they marched onto a soggy Medina football field and marched off with the first number one of the three they would need for their nineteenth sweepstakes.

The next "ones" were earned at the spring contest after hours of practice on three songs and exercises in sightreading. Not only did the symphonic band earn "I" ratings, but the concert and newly-formed freshman band made "I's" as well.

COUNTRY WESTERN MUSIC

A NEW BEAT FOR S. AFRICAN

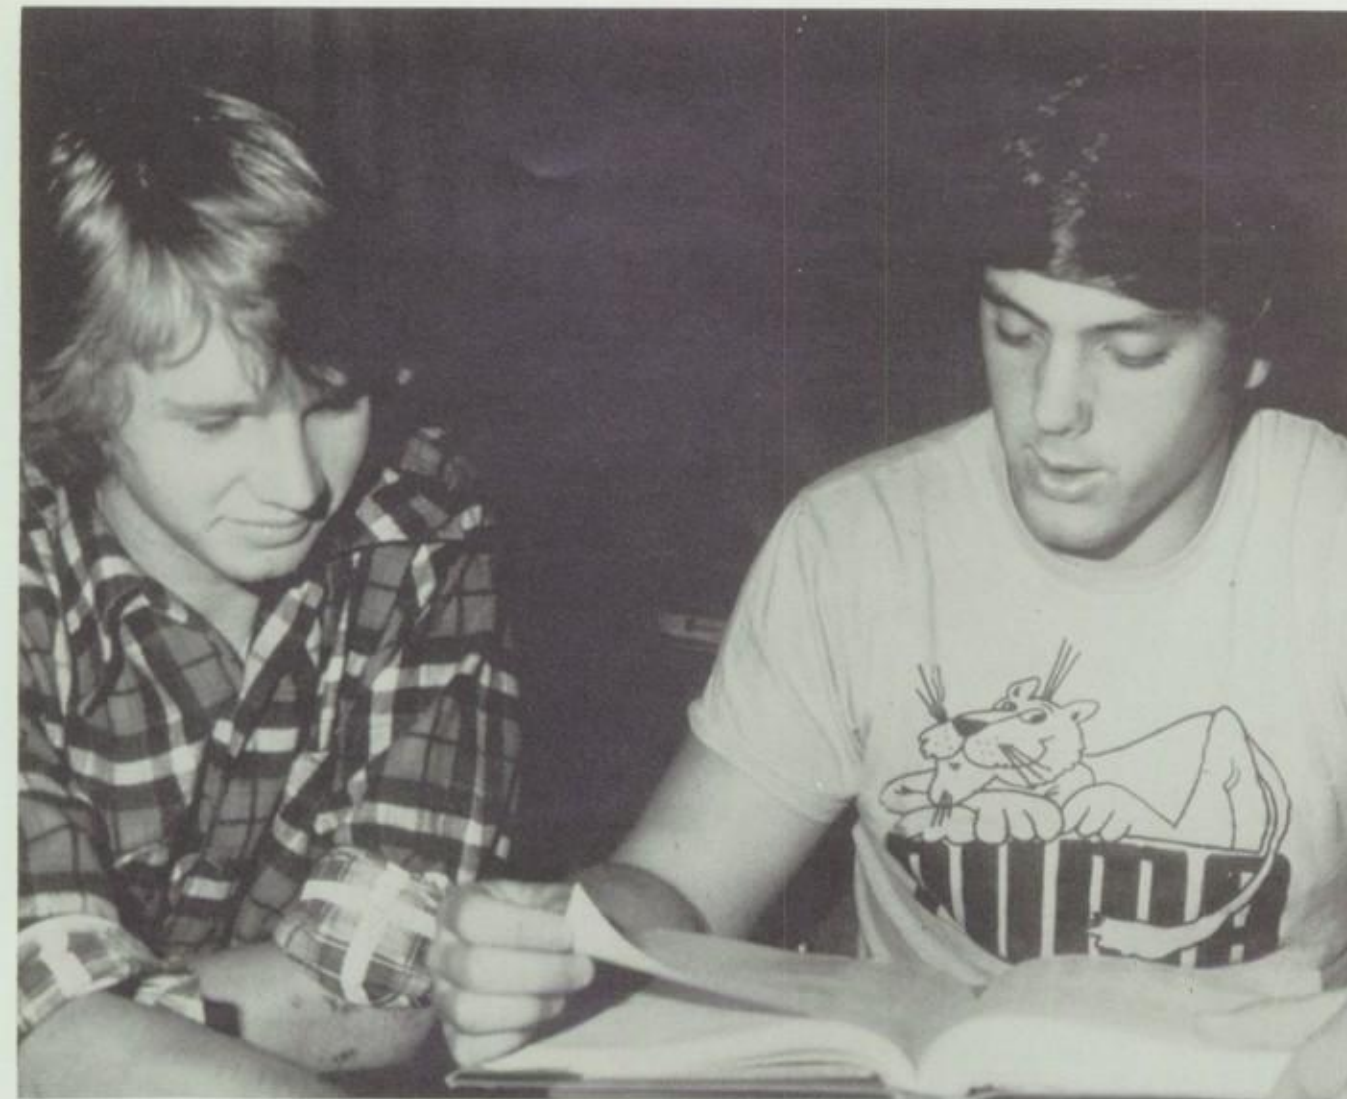

Soccer is one of the sports that Kel Sheppey enjoys playing. Here he illustrates the coordination and accuracy of playing soccer.

If you were to visit his country, it might not be the same. Western boots, hats, and country western music are unheard of.

These are the things that senior Kel Sheppey, from Johannesburg, South Africa, says look different to him about the United States. Kel is attending Fredericksburg High School for one year through the foreign exchange program sponsored by the International Rotary Club.

He arrived in Fredericksburg on January 18 and is living with the Charles ^{Gilson} Gibson family. "I chose to come to this area because I have friends who live on the YO ranch near Mountain Home," says Kel.

On weekends, he likes to go to the YO ranch and ride horses. When he's not riding, he's playing his guitar, hiking, canoeing, or dating.

The mountains and the wild areas are some of the things that Kel misses about South Africa. But mostly he misses his friends.

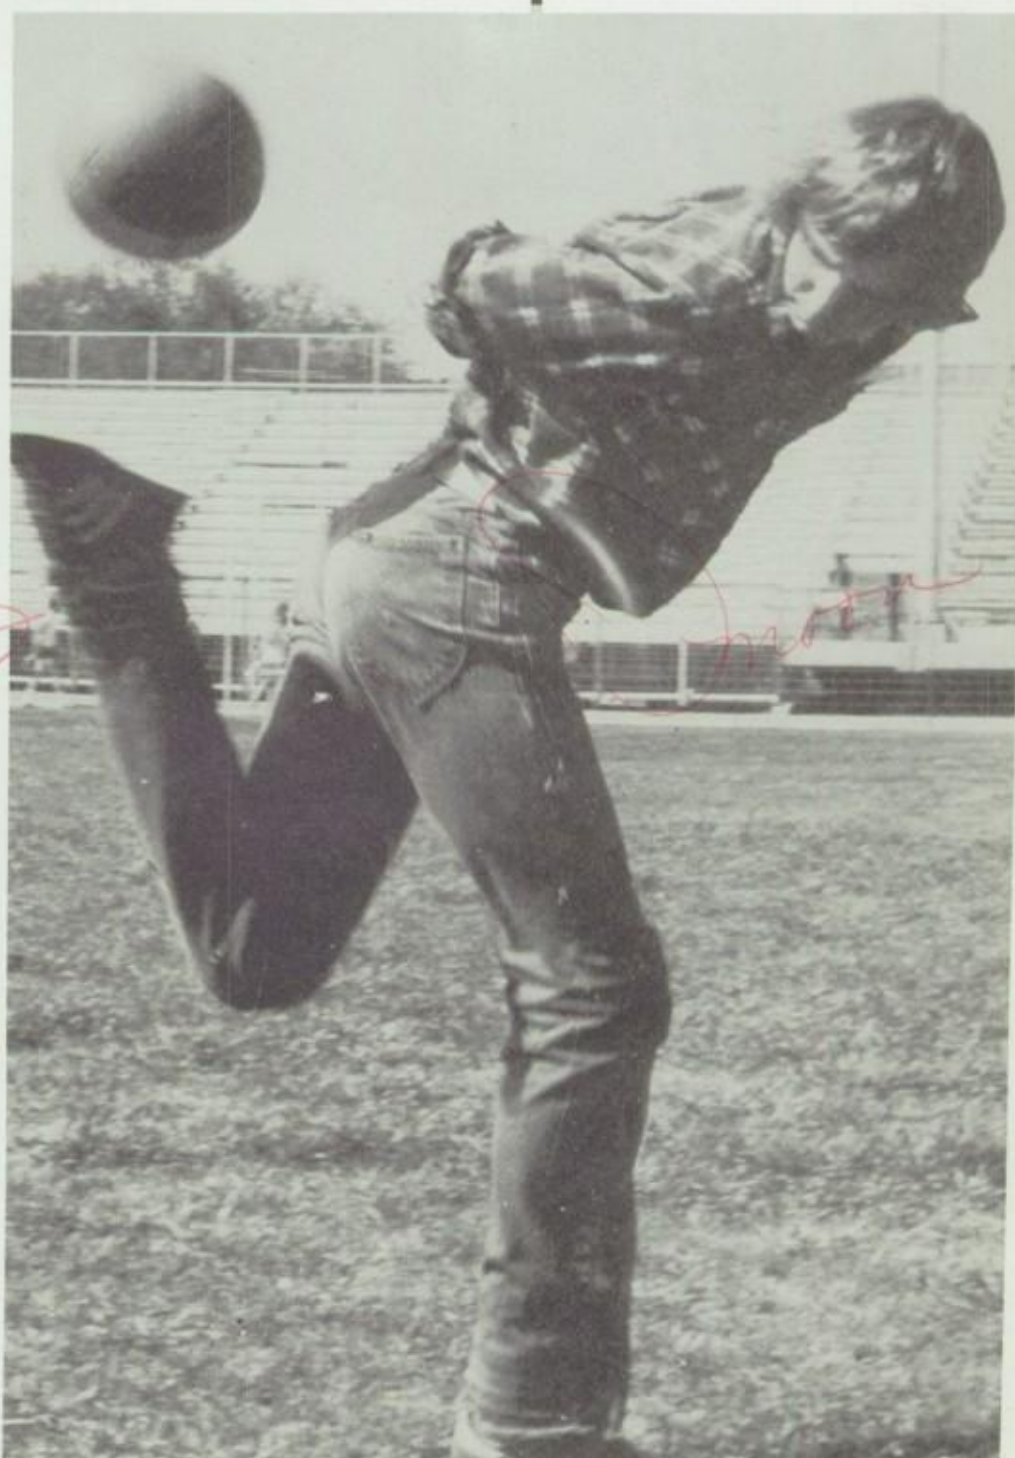

Kel has one brother, who is 16 years old. "We have a good relationship," exclaims Kel, "I beat him up real good, so now we don't fight anymore."

"I like being in Fredericksburg. It's not noisy, and you can get right out into nature," comments Kel.

Kel is classified as a senior and will return to South Africa in December.

His plans for the future include college, possibly at the University of Texas, or working for a year first.

Have you ever been to Paradise? You have if you went to the Junior-Senior Prom Friday May 4th, at the Pioneer Pavilion at Lady Bird Johnson Park.

"Self Propelled" was the name of the band that entertained everybody with music that evening. Then the sophomores put on a skit at intermission, a skit called Paradise Island which was a take off of Fantasy Island.

For dinner they had chicken baked in wine sauce with rice, green beans, jello and a piece of cake for dessert.

Mr. John Keller took the pictures against a tropical paradise background, that evening. He took the pictures so everybody could remember that tropical evening.

Seniors make a day of it

SENIOR DAY! Somehow water, barbecue and fun are usually associated with wherever the seniors choose to go and this year was no exception.

This year's class also added a little underground activity as they toured Longhorn Caverns near Marble Falls before making their way to Inks Lake. After a sack lunch, seniors spent the day swimming, sunning, chasing around the lake in paddle boats, canoeing (did someone actually go all the way across the lake in one?), playing volleyball and getting sunburned.

Dinner was catered by Inman's Barbecue and after a quiet (?) bus trip home, most seniors got back in time to make the PTA honor student awards before going home to nurse their sunburns and tired muscles.

Passing, flunking

Some classes are easy, so we pass them. Some classes are hard, so sometime we flunk them. A lot of classes we learn how to do just enough to get by. Regardless of how we manage to get by, that in itself is a feat.

Getting by

Long, hard hours are put into preparing for band solos and ensembles, as is shown by Teresa Meier, senior, as she practices for her solo.

Some nights the homework really piles up, as is shown by junior Vincent Kasch as he leaves school to go home for a long night of studying.

Flower sales give FTA money for scholarship

An active organization, the Future Teachers of America Club participated in the Homecoming Parade, sold over 1000 carnations to raise money for a scholarship, attended their state convention and held a banquet and end-of-school party. The group is sponsored by Mrs. Claire Patterson. (A) "Teach the Eagles" was the theme of the FTA float in the Homecoming Parade. Variety of techniques used to keep English classes lively

Over 1000 long-stemmed carnations and boutonnières were sold by the Future Teachers of America club in their annual fund-raising project. The group sells the flowers for distribution on Valentines Day in order to earn money to give a scholarship to a graduating senior.

Members also attended the state FTA convention in Ft. Worth Feb. 23-24. The club was entered in the Homecoming Parade.

Some FTA members worked throughout the year for teachers, helping out with paper work. They celebrated the end of the year with a picnic and a dinner at Oma Kooock's. Sponsor of the club is Mrs. Claire Patterson.

Classes in speech and drama meant more than just acting. Students learned about making props and lighting, how to organize their thoughts, how to debate, how to produce radio and television spots. They even learned a few things about interpersonal relations.

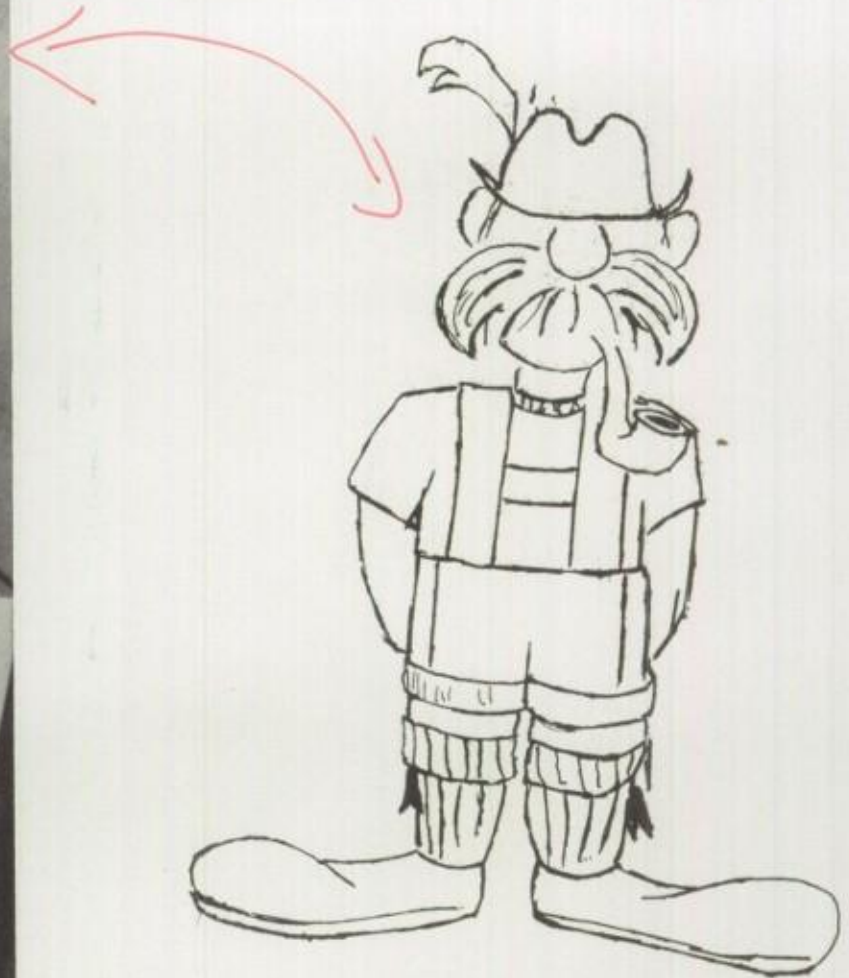

Speech class was taught by Mrs. Jean Brady, and Mrs. Marjie Young handled drama. Both classes were involved in preparing students for University Interscholastic League competition in speaking events as well as one-act play.

In addition to this, the drama department staged a children's play in the fall.

Class members attended parties at the beginning of school and Christmas and some helped in a mock emergency test in Stonewall in April.

Making the '79 Mesa bigger and better was the challenge for this year's yearbook staff as they expanded the number of pages and added more color.

Words like quad-pak, pica, type face and job stamp all became familiar to the ten-member staff. Only editor Ruth Klaehn had ever worked on a yearbook before, so the staff had a lot of learning to do. Ruth and Shirley Kozielski attended summer workshop at Sam Houston State University. The entire staff flew to Dallas to visit the Taylor Publishing Company and try to learn more about yearbooks from the production side.

The '78 Mesa received an Award of Achievement, the equivalent of a II rating, in its first year to be rated by the Interscholastic League Press Conference.

Comet wins state, national honors

Keeping up the winning tradition, this year's Campus Comet staff took high honors in every competition in which it was entered.

At the state Interscholastic League Press Conference in Austin, the Comet was one of only two AAA newspapers in the state to receive the Award of Distinguished Merit — the highest ranking for newspapers. Only one point separated the Comet and the paper from Austin Westlake High School.

In individual achievement categories at ILPC, senior Jacque Vogel, editor, won third place in the state for news photo in the AAA division.

For the first time this year, the Comet was entered in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association competition and when the ratings were announced at the convention in New York City, the Comet not only won First Place division honors but was also chosen as a Medalist paper. This ranking is given only to newspapers that are among the top ten percent of all newspapers entered.

Past helps prepare students for future

Two and a half units of Social Studies — that's all the state and the school requirements say. But who could think of social studies at FHS without thinking of Mr. Merz's "jokes" or Coach Loth pounding the blackboard to make a point.

Social studies was definitely more than just a routine required subject. With Coach Loth or Mr. Pape in American history, freshmen learned about the problems and conditions in modern America. Concepts and theories are stressed as well as just routine dates and places.

Juniors usually take world history, taught by Mr. Merz and Mr. Wieser. In just three quarters students are supposed to learn history from beginning to end (at least present day).

Government teachers Mr. Merz and Coach Wolf stress current events and problems within the government today.

To help students learn, classes are assigned research papers and historical projects. They watch video tapes and films and go on field trips to the Capitol in Austin, the LBJ Library and the Texas Memorial Museum.

Social studies department is led by Mr. Herbert Merz. Other instructors include Coach A. J. Loth, Mr. Mark Wieser, Mr. Jim Pape, and Coach Mike Wolf.

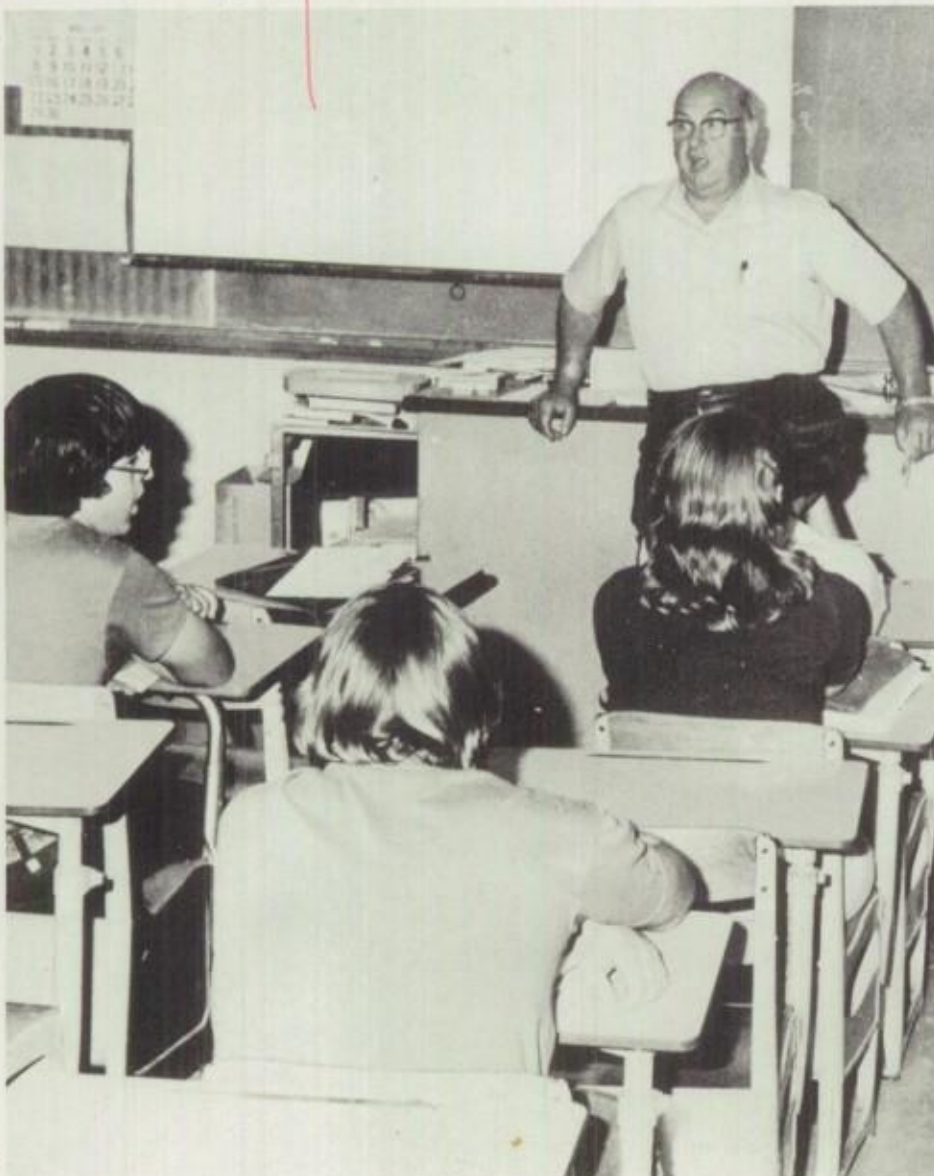

Coach Loth explains to the class about the problems in history dealing with depressions, unfair taxation, Presidents and strikes. He also centers on disruption of war and the involvement of neutral countries. Bottom — Daisy Ottmers concentrating on getting her work finished for World History.

COMPUTING FOR THE FUTURE

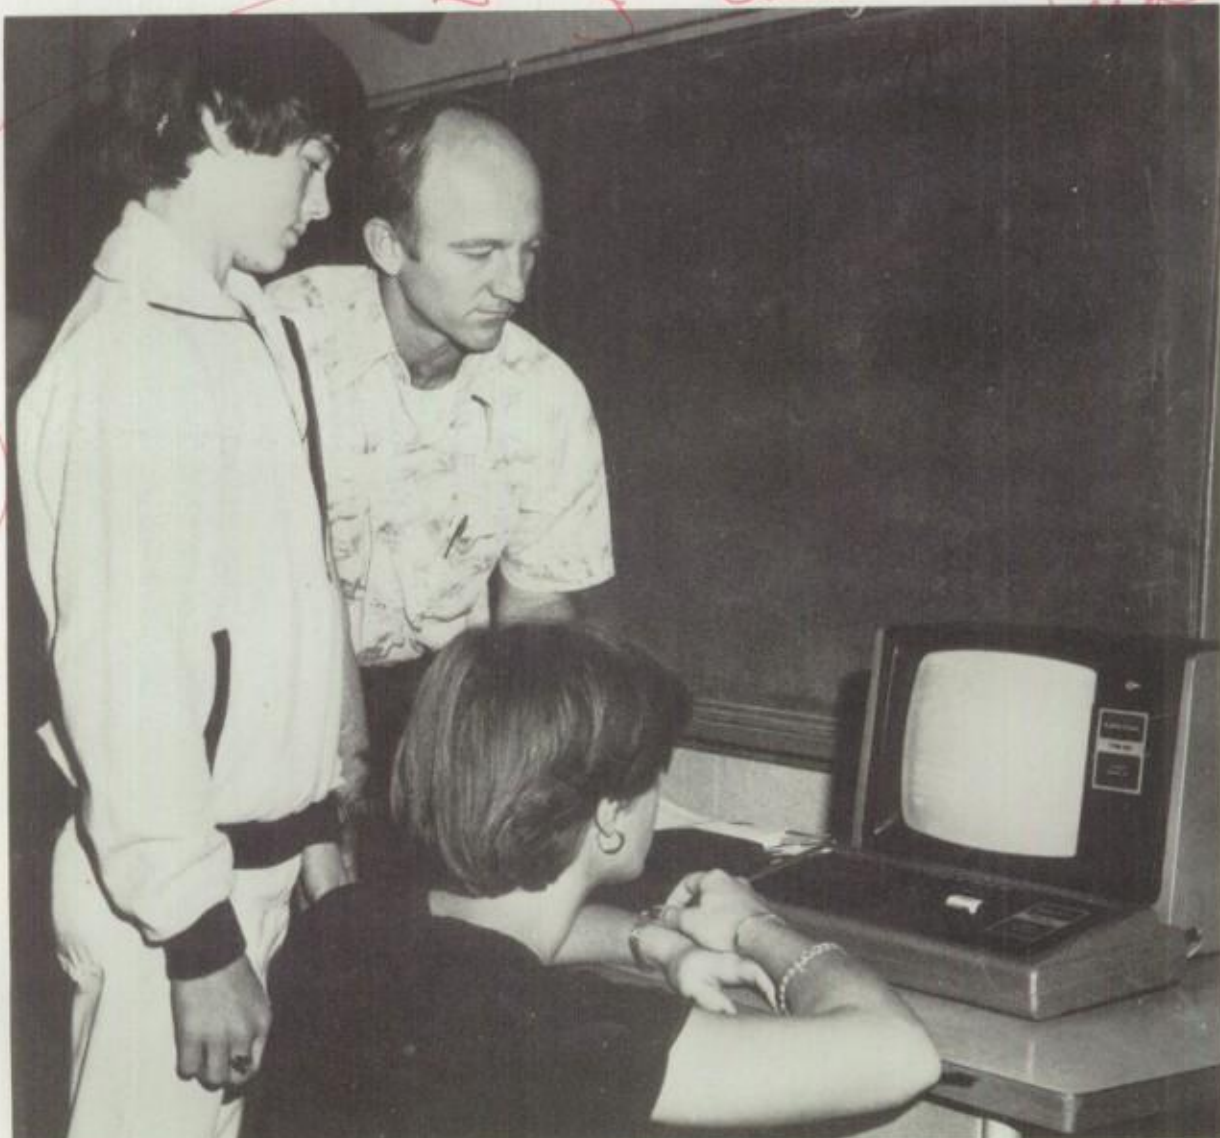

Marilyn Moffett practices probability in her Math class.

Math looks simple when Mr. Jack Schandua, math teacher, explains it.

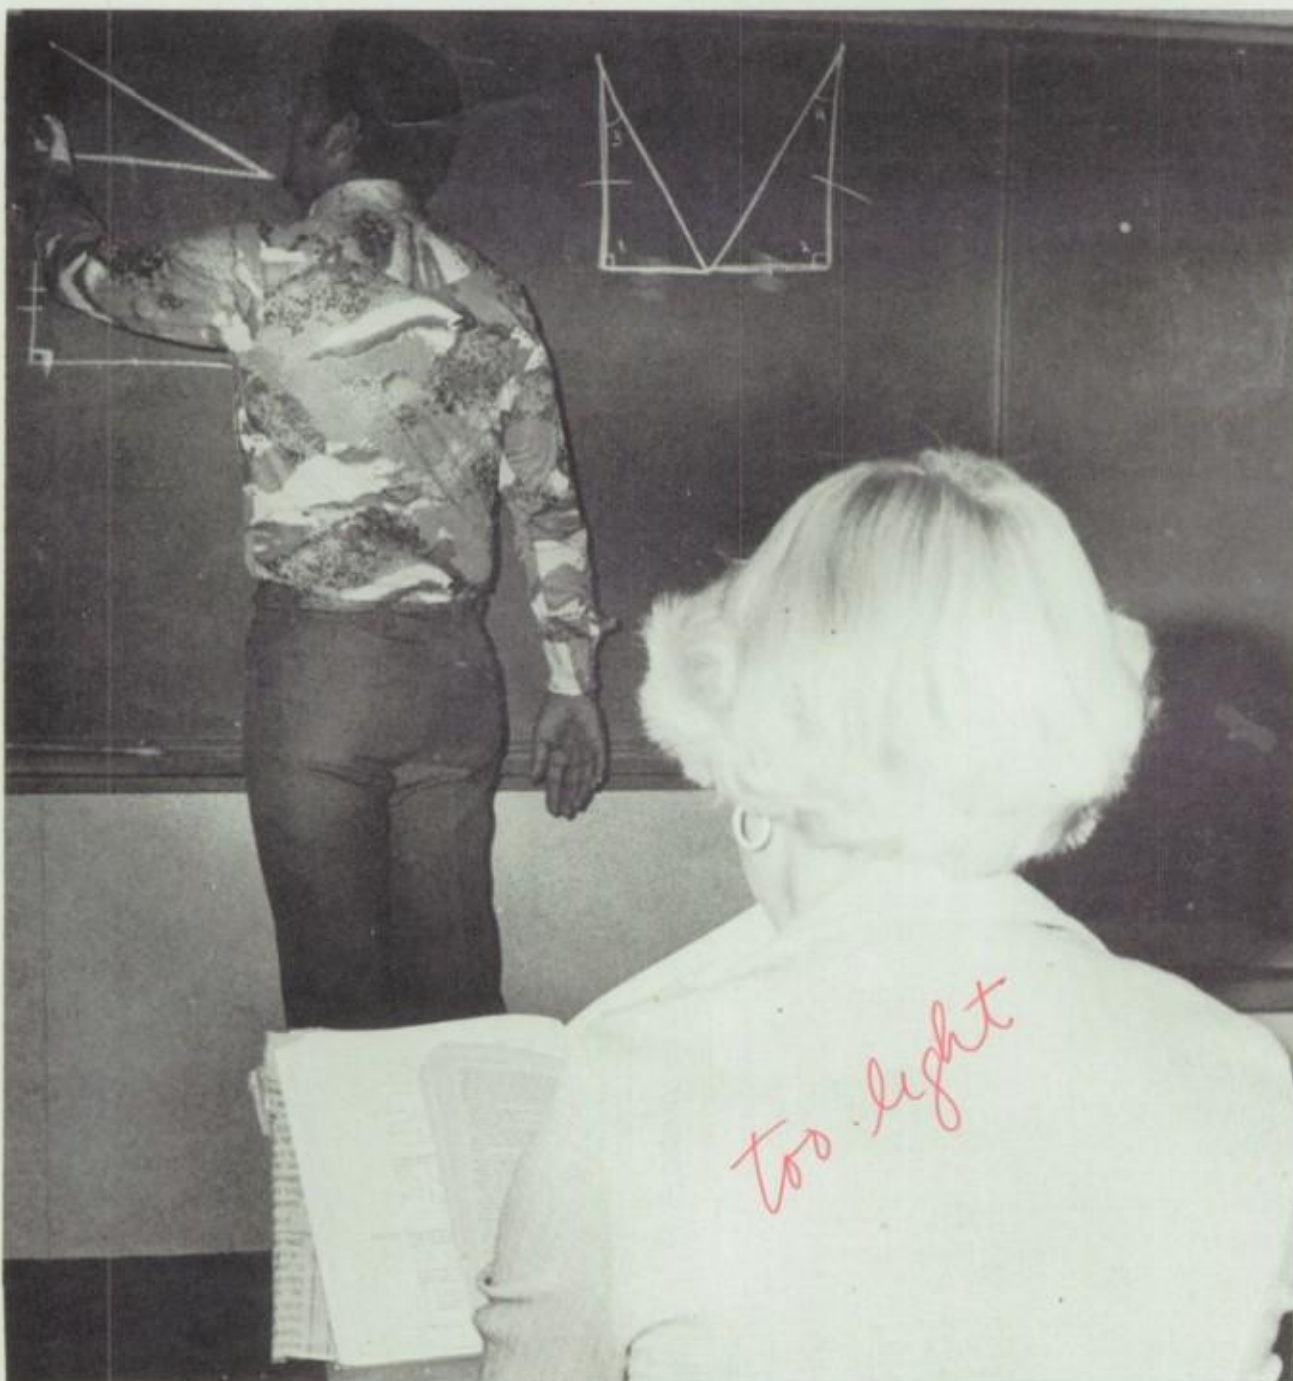

these are more like the classroom shots

Mr. Schandua shows Malcolm Coon and Sara McGowan how the new Math computer works.

Seniors Beverly Wissemann, John McClusky, Keith Kunz, James Biirschwale, Kenneth Loth, and Tony Loth, listen closely as they try to comprehend Mr. Schandua's solution to the problem.

Students don't always listen, as freshman, Barbara Janders illustrates in Mr. Haas' class.

Band upholds winning tradition

Nineteen sweepstakes! The tradition is getting to be such a long-standing one that marching and concert seasons are occasions for ulcers and the worry that maybe you'll be the one to get out of step or flub that note. But winning brings smiles (and sometimes tears) of relief.

This year's band maintained that winning tradition, with "I" ratings at marching contest in the fall and concert and sightreading competition in the spring. There are now so many sweepstakes trophies that more space was needed to display them. A new trophy case was donated by the Audi Boos Memorial Fund and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Boos.

For the first time since 1976, FHS had a student who won a place in the All-State Band. Junior Peggy Kott made it to state with her talent on the clarinet. Also, more people entered solo and ensemble contest than ever before and the contest had to be held on two days because of the high numbers of contestants in the region.

Fundraising methods vary from cake to turkey

When it comes to raising money, the band and band boosters are experts. Maybe their projects are always successful because there's no shortage of people willing to do a lot of hard work to make band events go.

Imagine making a turkey dinner for a few thousand people, or trying to keep 2-300 people all walking in the right circle for a cake.

Money raised by the band goes to pay for uniforms, instruments and trips that the band takes.

It's that kind of support that helps fund "The Pride of the Texas Hill Country."

FBLA Chapter increases involvement

This year saw the Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) club take new directions with a new sponsor, Mrs. Sandy Brisbin.

Students competed both in University Interscholastic League typing and shorthand and in FBLA-sponsored contests. One group even advanced as far as state competition.

FHS' business department includes not only typing but also courses in general business, shorthand and bookkeeping. In addition to Mrs. Brisbin, courses were taught by Mr. Calvin Yarbrough and Mr. Mike Wolf.

Students in typing classes gain in speed and accuracy throughout the year.

Most students wouldn't be caught dead in summer school. So why are all these freshmen and sophomores coming to school after the final report cards are issued? Drivers' Ed.

Probably the most popular course in school, drivers' education trains students in the right ways to handle driving situations. One of its biggest appeals is that it enables students to get their licenses earlier.

Teaching the course this summer were Mr. Carlin Wicker, Mr. James Marshall, Mr. Jerry Jenkins and Mr. David Mayfield.

Coach Pat Seeds and Coach Carol Nunez are the girls' P.E. teachers. Coach David Mayfield is the boys' coach.

Ribbons could be obtained in some activities such as swimming and bowling.

Physical Education is a two-year requirement. It lets you get your day's frustrations out. It's also a great way to keep in shape.

The Girls' Athletic Association was first thought up by the girl athletes because they wanted to participate in the Homecoming Parade but needed to be in some sort of organization. So the GAA club came to be.

The girls elected Waldeen Waldendorf — President, Brenda Klein — Vice-President, Carolyn Gellermann — Secretary, Janie Schneider — Treasurer, Geraldine Kott — Reporter.

The girls went to watch the Spurs. They also plan to go to the Magic Time Machine. Money making projects have been: selling cupcakes at lunch, selling mugs, and having a booth in the Fun Fest.

The girls hope this organization can keep going and are re: for some improvements soi

HOSA students place high at contests

HOSA students (Health Occupations Students of America) are students who are enrolled in Health Technology Careers classes.

The students attend classes and have jobs in some health-related field.

Teacher for the class this year was Mrs. Kay Wilson who brought practical nursing experience to her job. When Mrs. Wilson and her family moved in mid-year, her position was taken by Mrs. Nancy Hardin.

During the year, HOSA students help with the Bloodmobile and the Cancer Bike-a-thon.

VAC serves students

"A special class for students with special needs," is how Mrs. Liz Brookshire describes the Vocational Adjustment Coordination program that she directs at FHS.

The program is four years old and its purpose is to aid students who might otherwise leave school or be unable to finish.

VAC students work at a variety of jobs throughout the community during the part of the school day. Then for part of the day they work with Mrs. Brookshire learning the skills that they need to do better on the job and in the classroom.

Students who start the program must be sixteen and be given several screening tests before they can be admitted to the program. Work stations for them range from child care and office work to agricultural and construction work.

Helping out at Head Start is VAC student Donna Staudt. VAC students hold a variety of jobs throughout the community.

BUILDING IT UP

This year the building trades classes are building a house located on Frederick Drive in Carriage Hills. The house consists of three bedrooms, two full bathrooms with dressing rooms and walk-in closets, 1,400 sq. ft. The house has a two car garage and it is bricked all around on the outside.

The lot and materials for the house are furnished by Stein Lumber Co. They will sell the house and give a donation to the Building Trades VICA Club for the labor. The house will sell for around $50,000.

In this year's classes Mr. Brisbin also has seven Comfort students. They are Robert Jones, Javier Carlos, Tony Martinez, Martin Martinez, Jason Rios, Paul Seidensticker, and Robert Keck.

Building Trades also attended Area and State Contest.

ICT, Industrial Cooperative Training do many things such as filling out tax forms, learning how to manage a bank account, how to drive defensively, and they also do many other things. ICT provides many students with a job which the student may choose from over a hundred different careers. The class also does individual assignments which helps the student to better their job or career in which he or she works in.

ICT held the Third Annual Super Fun Fest this year as a fund raising project. They used this money to pay for the district and state VICA meets, and for the annual employee and employer banquet.

"ICT did fairly well this year in the VICA district and state meets which let boys and girls compete in various skills." Says Larry Beyer.

Winners were: Mike Brundridge 1st in District, 1st in State; Ruben Sagebiel 2nd in District; Larry Beyer 3rd in District, 1st in skills (District); Mike Howard 2nd in skills (District); Duane Durst 1st District, 2nd State in skills.

Brian Ransleben works for Knopp and Metzgers as a bag boy. He got this job through the D.E. program.

D.E. Distributive Education is a course which will train you to work with people, merchandise, how to operate a cash register, and many other helpful things. The class is helpful in finding and preparing you for the job.

D.E. classes do such things as individual assignments, tax forms, job interviews, and how to dress for a job interview.

During the football season D.E. students sell popcorn for a fund raising project. They use this money to hold the annual Employer and Employee Banquet at the end of the year. This banquet is to show their appreciation to their employer.

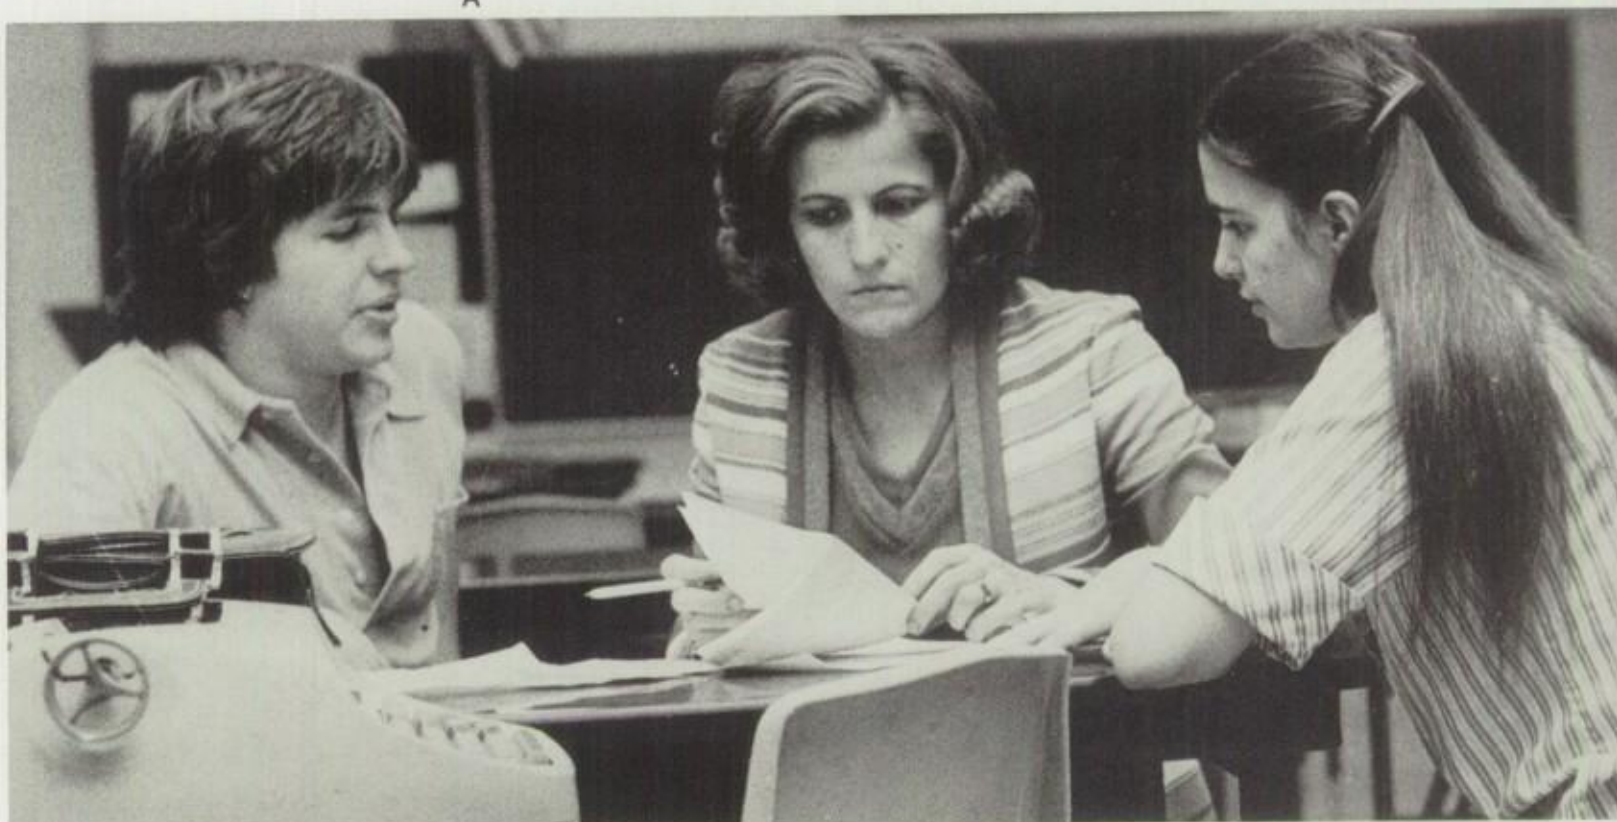

Like ICT, D.E. has many different careers from which the student may choose from.

VOE students win honors for club

Holiday parties and competition in skills contests highlighted this year for VOE (Vocational Office Education) students who participated in OEA and PEL-OEA.

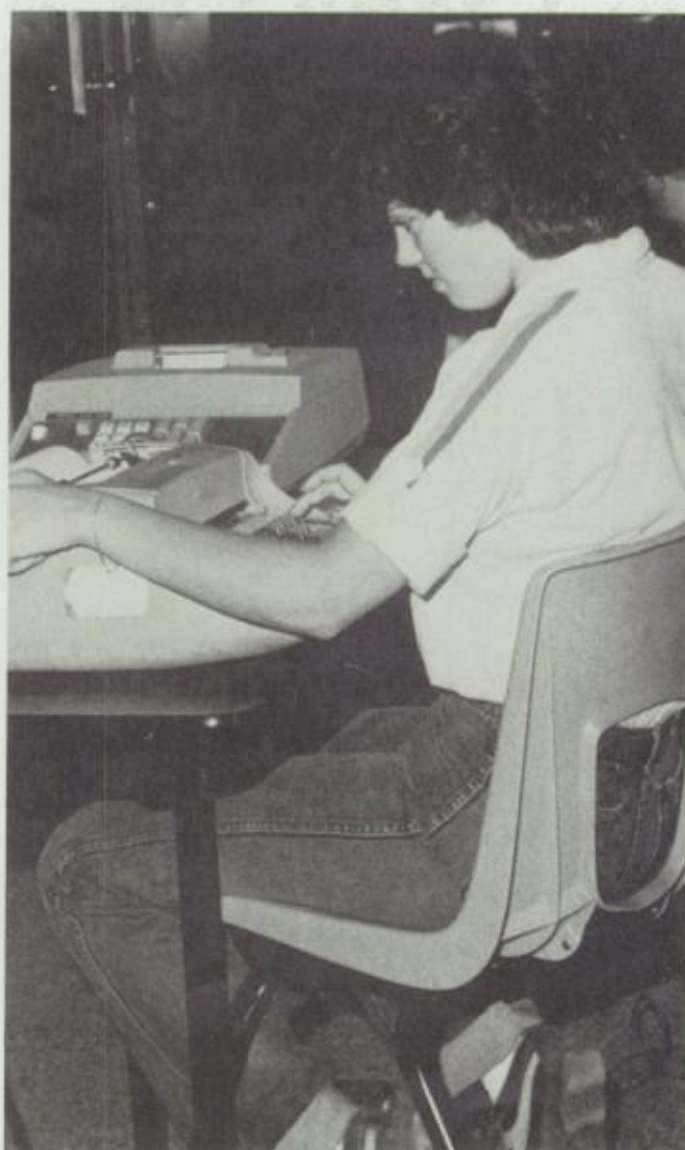

Tops among this year's competitors was senior Julie Jenschke who placed sixth in the state in Extemporaneous Verbal Communication II.

She and other students attended the state conference in Houston March 29-31. Jenschke, Glendine Segner, Barbara Jacoby and Ruth Kleahn made the trip.

Julie had previously taken first at the area contest.

Also competing at area were Maureen Stehling (third in accounting), Mary Lynn Schumann (third in general clerical II), and Shannon Smith (sixth in stenographic I).

In addition to competition, OEA also hosted parties for their members at Halloween, Christmas and Valentines. Sponsor of OEA is Mrs. Diane Lindner. PEL-OEA sponsor is Mrs. Linda Langford.

Service with a smile

Students in CVAE — Food Service not only learn about how to prepare foods and work in food-related occupations — they actually do it.

Catering banquets — even as large as the All-Sports Banquet in the spring — is all in a day's work for the students in Mrs. Betty Eckert's class.

The girls operate a bakery year-round, preparing cakes, pies, cookies and breads. They've set up a restaurant — the Diner's Dictionary — which serves lunch several days a week. They also learn cake decorating and do volunteer work with Head Start students.

Jobs the girls prepare for include hostess, cashier, beverage waitress, dessert waitress, floor waitress, busing, serving line attendant and kitchen assistant.

A Skill for Life

CVAE is a great class to get into if you want to learn something that will stick to you for a long time. The boys learn things which will help them in the outer world. Mr. Chenault can teach you just about everything.

1. Doesn't look like he's doing much does it? Well, Victor Flores has a very important job checking out, and checking in instruments to the other students. 2. A wise welder is Dean Loitz. 3. FHA & HERO clubs adopt service projects for community, school

During the year, FHA-HERO did many meaningful things for others — and for themselves.

They presented two puppet shows for the public school primary grades and also for the Stepping Stone Day Care Center and the Gingerbread House kindergarten.

FHA also sponsored a "better breakfast" program to encourage high school students to eat better in the mornings.

In addition to local meetings, some members attended the area meeting in San Antonio March 3. Five members went to the state convention in Ft. Worth April 26-27.

This summer the clubs went to Landa Park. Members who attended were those who had earned enough points through club participation.

The groups also participated in the Homecoming Parade.

B. In Single Survival, making a salad can be an assembly line project as Rodney Lott, Bobby Gibson and Mark Martinez illustrate.

For a long time "homemaking" courses have not just included the traditional cooking and sewing. Course offerings at FHS give students a chance to learn to be cautious consumers, to take care of children, to live on their own.

Taught by Mrs. Marialyce Dittmar and Miss Connie Seidenberger, homemaking courses range from "You and Your Money", "Single Survival", "Home and Family Living", and "Child Development" to the traditional Homemaking I and II.

Students in the coop program also get a chance to work in a homemaking-related field. That might be food services or child care or a variety of other fields.

Whatever the course title, both teachers infuse a lot of the "real world" in their courses, inviting in speakers, sharing current information, and using audio-visuals.

Two UIL'ers finish high at state

FHS University Interscholastic League district participants were a long way from the years in which Fredericksburg teams scored few if any points at the district meet. This year's competitors racked up enough points for a third place district finish out of fourteen schools. Six students went on to regional and two went to state.

Winning at state was junior Michele Isenberg in feature writing. Michele had placed second in district and second at regional before going on to take the top spot at state. She also took first place in headline writing at district and was fifth at regional.

Senior John McClusky was second in the state in science after finishing second at district and regional. John also competed in slide rule. Also participating at regionals in Corpus Christi were Brenda Schneidewent, junior, in poetry interpretation; Maurine Stehling, senior, in spelling, Robert Thiele, junior, in number sense, and Scott Poehlmann, junior, in persuasive speaking.

For the first time this year, UIL participants became eligible for jackets and patches. Recognition was given to students who had participated at least two years at the district meet or who were seniors participating for the first year.

Competing in journalism were (front row) Jacque Vogel, editorial writing and newswriting; Michele Isenberg, feature writing and headline writing, (second row) Marilyn Moffett, headline writing; Judy Jung, feature writing; Ruth Klaehn, editorial writing; and newswriting; Sandy Baumann, feature writing and newswriting; Wendy Wallendorf, headline writing. Not pictured is Jeff Holt who participated in editorial writing.

Science competition drew Tommy Mathis, John McClusky and Scott Poehlmann.

Who's Who winners are selected by the teachers in the various departments. There are only ten Who's Who chosen for the entire school, so winners here must represent the very best in their respective fields. This year's winners were announced at an assembly May 9.

Mr. and Miss FHS are selected by a vote of the entire student body and faculty.

English and Business: Maurine Stehling

Maurine has competed in UIL Spelling and this year advanced to regional. She was a winner of the citizenship award in English and was cited by both her English teachers and Business teachers as having done superior work in all the courses she had taken in these fields.

Math and Science: John McClusky

This year John won second in the state in UIL Science competition. He also competed in Slide Rule and advanced as far as Regional for the last two years. Described by his teachers as having a "very inquisitive mind", John was the type of student that they said, "always did more than he had to do."

Social Studies: and Mr. FHS —

Tony Loth

A good scholar as well as popular with his classmates. Tony was the top vote-getter among all the senior boys for the Mr. FHS title. He has participated in athletics and a variety of club activities throughout his high school career. In Social Studies he was chosen because of his leadership and citizenship as well as his good grades, according to Mr. Herbert Merz, Social Studies chairman.

Vocational: Julie Jenschke

Julie competed in the state Office Education Association contest in Extemporaneous Verbal Communications II. She placed sixth. Julie, according to one of her teachers — Mrs. Diane Lindner — always went above the call of duty in the classroom, on the job or during fund-raising projects. She gave up other extracurricular activities to compete for OEA.

Fine Arts: Peggy Kott
FHS' first member of the All-State Band since 1976, Peggy was one of only two juniors to be selected a Who's Who. She plays the clarinet. Peggy was cited by Band Director Bill Brady for her dedication to the band.

Communications: Jacque Vogel
Jacque is a three-year communications student and has served as Photo Editor, Managing Editor and Editor of the Campus Comet. Always there and willing to get things done, were the qualities that made Jacque an outstanding editor, according to Mrs. Cathy Collier, Comet advisor. Jacque has also participated in UIL newswriting and editorial writing. She won a state award for photography.

Athletics: Larry Wunderlich
Larry made his athletic ability pay off and won a scholarship to Tarleton State University. He played football, basketball and track for four years and advanced to regional in the 440-yard dash in track. He also won district honors in baseball and football.

Languages: Lisa Heep
Lisa has been in Spanish for three years and is the other junior to be honored as a Who's Who this year. She was a Rotary Exchange Student to Mexico. She was described by Spanish teacher Mr. Bruce Burns as persevering, intelligent and hard-working.

Miss FHS: Zann Zimmerman
Zann's name may put her last in the alphabet, but her friendly personality won her the votes of her classmates. Zann moved to Fredericksburg from Hereford during her sophomore year. She has been in the band, earning honors there as well as a spot in the twirling line her junior and senior year.

One hundred and sixty-four seniors made history June 1, when they became the first class to graduate in the Exhibition Hall at the Gillespie County Fair Grounds.

The reason for the move from FHS Stadium was a four inch downpour that fell Thursday night and Friday. At first ceremonies were scheduled in the auditorium, but the fairground facilities offered more space for parents and friends so the seniors requested the move.

The class song, "I Got A Name" was sung by Clyde Pehl, Robert Wehmeyer and Steven Langehennig. Scholarship winners were announced, diplomas were passed out and the ceremonies were over. But for the class of '79 it will mean more than just a graduation that was moved inside because of rain. For them, it will also carry with it all the emotions and memories of twelve years of education.

Sports — It doesn't have to be organized at school to be fun. At just about any time of the year students seem to be able to find some sports to occupy them. But most people find themselves most active in the summer, when individual sports take over.

A lot of people take the skills they learned in physical education classes — volleyball, softball, swimming, golf, tennis — and put them to use.

New P.E. classes that start in the fall will emphasize even more individual or lifetime sports for students.

If you asked people why they expend their energy on one particular activity, some might explain that they're trying to keep fit, or lose some extra weight or they're trying to get good enough to make some team or the other next year. But most people would probably say they do it just for fun.

Coaches make the difference

What was it like to play on the Junior Varsity Football team this year? In the words of Junior team member Paul Pylate, "It was a blast!" The team had a record of 6-2-1.

Defense seemed to be a definite strong point according to sophomore Bryan Jordan. Coach David Mayfield explains, "This year we had enough talent out there to be able to play a completely different team for offense and defense. Brad Hardin says, "The whole attitude of the team was up and there was more spirit than ever before." In agreement with this Coach Mayfield points out that early in the year he and Coach Calvin Yarbrough tried to impress upon the team the importance of taking pride in doing their part. Along the lines of spirit Dwayne Wierich, sophomore, comments, "The coaches really got us fired up for the game!"

This year has been a real turn around for the Junior Varsity team. Their freshman year left a lot to be desired. Responding to the question of what made the difference Coach Mayfield says, "This year, before we ever practiced in pads, Coach Yarbrough and I emphasized the fact that it's a lot more fun when you are winning. Most people thought that this team was a bunch of losers but I didn't believe that. They had too much talent to go to waste. They made up their mind to win and went ahead and did. More people started coming to the games and that made the team try even harder. At the first of the season we had three shut outs. We beat Hondo 24-0, Lampasas 26-0 and Brady 24-0. When we played South San West they only scored six points on us in the first half while we scored twelve. So we actually scored a total of 86 points before we were ever scored on."

Paul Pylate, junior feels "The team really came together." Coach Mayfield adds, "I was real pleased with the unity of the team. There was a lot of leadership from the juniors on the team. There were five this year; Paul Pylate, Bryan Wierich, Joel Lindig, Troy Klaener and Jimmy Ray. In conclusion Coach Mayfield states, "I haven't had a long coaching career but I know it will be a long time before I ever will work with a group like this again. Art by Steve Thomas.

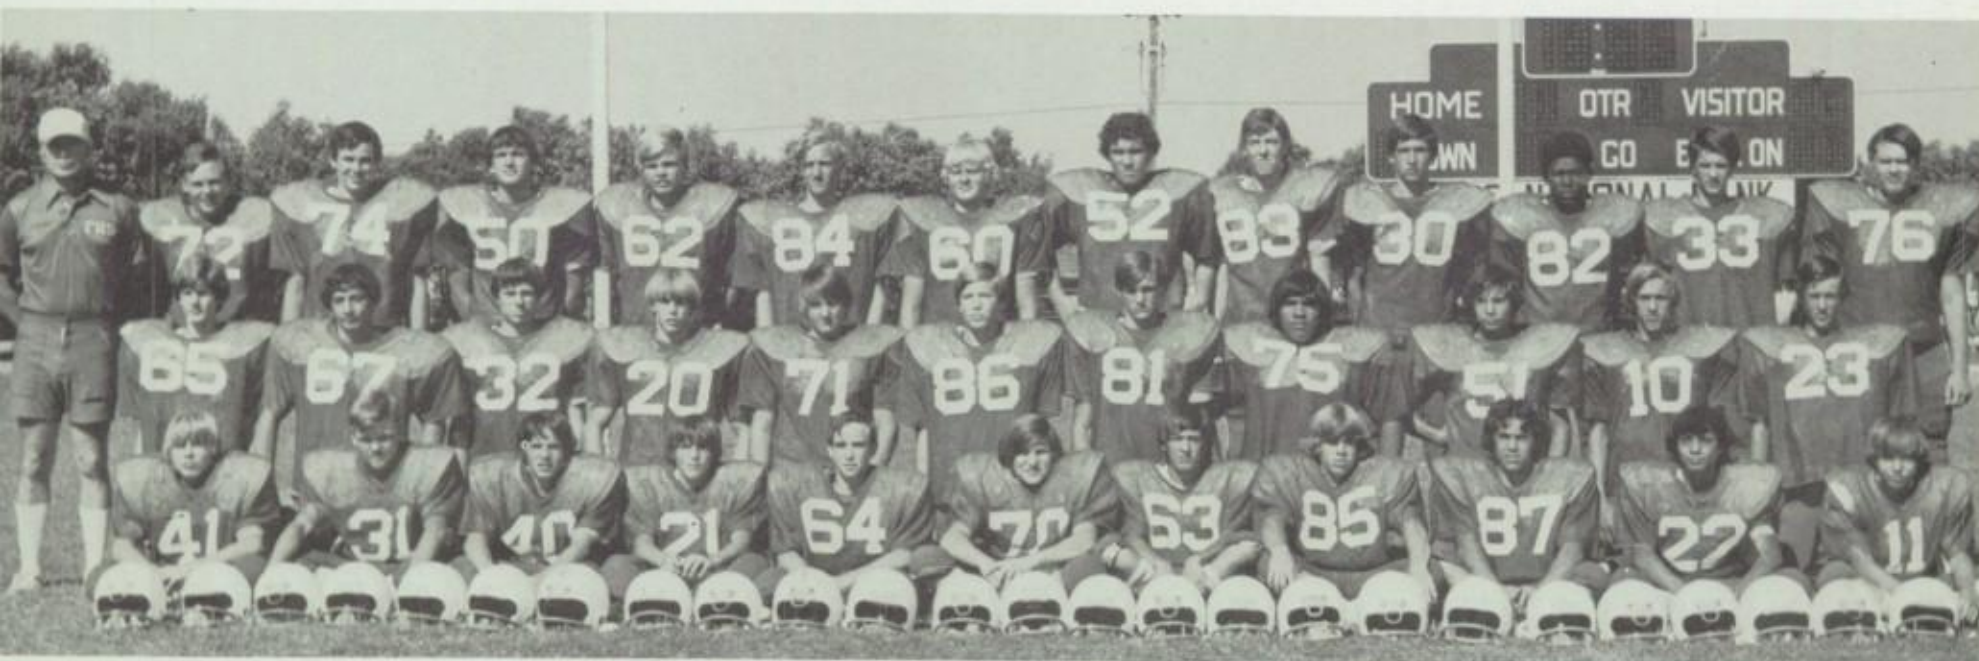

We should have been better

The Freshman team had a 4-4 record this year but Coach John Felts along with most team members agrees that they "should have done better!" Tommy Loth Freshman team member pointed out that "bad luck and injuries held the team back." He added that at times when the team was behind they weren't able to get it back together. Jesse Sanchez, Freshman team member, feels a major factor was "attitude". "Sometimes we were ready for the game and sometimes we weren't", he explains. Coach Felts also feels the team did not reach its full capacity. "I had to play a lot of the team both ways. This hurt us because those players who played all the way through a game couldn't function at their best. We weren't confident we would have enough strength if we replaced some of those key players.

Henry Millsap, Freshman team member, commented that playing this year gave him a sense of "responsibility". "It made me feel good to take care of my part of the game", Henry continued. Coach Felts pointed out that he really looked forward to working with this group. He further explains, "There are a lot of good athletes in this class and a lot of really good kids." Coach Felts added that he personally thought highly of the whole team.

We let the other guys on the team know when they do a good job," responds John Ball when asked what is special about the team. John goes on to say the biggest asset to the team and a major factor in their success is the fact they have a lot of "spirit" and "sportsmanship". "When we are out there playing together and know that everybody is trying their hardest, we know that we have the best chance of winning," he concludes.

The Girls Varsity Basketball team had a tough time this season switching from the familiar half-court game to 5 on 5. A difficult change for the girls was that everyone had to be able to play offensively as well as defensively. The team feels that the game of 5 on 5 is much faster and physical than half-court.

The season's stats show Meta Ottmers leading in points with 386, Judy Dittmar leading with 43 steals, and Waldeen Wallendorf with 222 rebounds.

The season's record was 9 wins and 18 losses. In district play the girls were 2 wins and 10 losses.

"We have accomplished something almost as good as winning and that was our ability to work closely together as a 'whole'," comments senior Brenda Klein.

Meta Ottmers, junior and forward, was named to the All-West Zone District 13-3A basketball squad. Waldeen Wallendorf, senior Billie forward, was an Honorable Mention to the squad.

"We gained a lot of experience," Coach Seeds adds, "and will be ready for a better season next year." (Photos by Kenneth Schmidt)

"Team Work," states Coach Carol Nunez, "is what helped in our winning season. Also the fact that the bench was strong and anyone could come off of it to score."

The Girls Junior Varsity team had an excellent season's record of 15 wins and 7 losses. In district play their record was 7 wins and 5 losses.

Coach Nunez commented on the ability of the Junior Varsity team in handling presses defensively and taking advantage of the fast-break, which 5 on 5 can give a team.

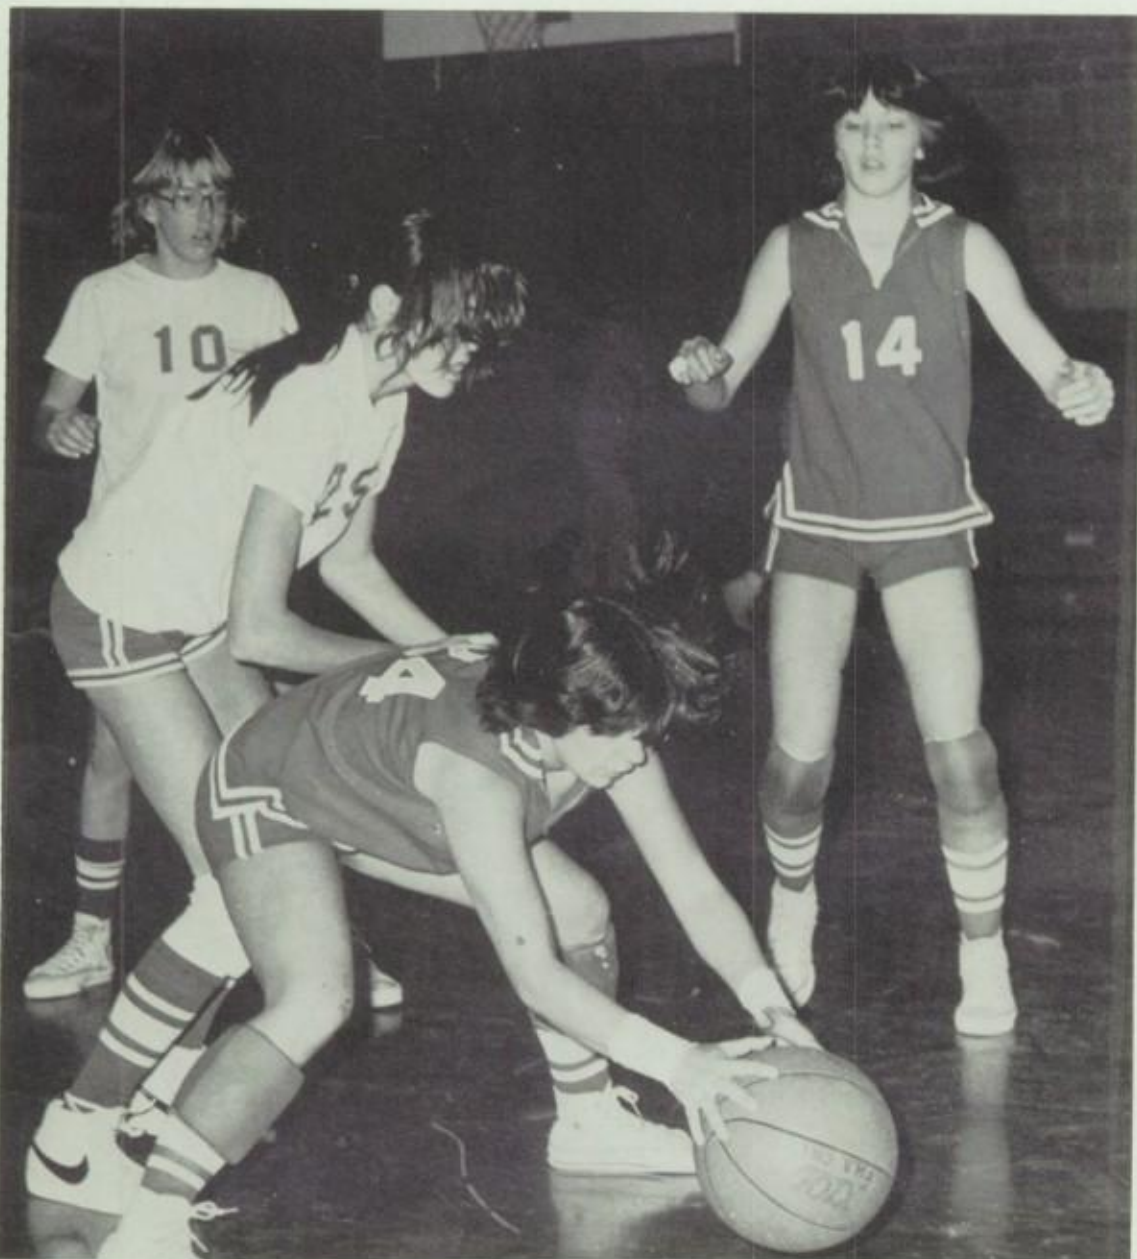

Sherry Schneider said, "The team had confidence in each other as well as in themselves."

The Junior Varsity has had a year's advance training in 5 on 5 because they played it last year. Coach Nunez adds, "We are ready for even a better record next year." (Photos by Kenneth Schmidt)

Coach Pat Seeds commented that the team was very quick and had a lot of height which helped their winning stats.

Erin Sebera led the freshman team with 143 points, 106 rebounds and 75 steals. Also scoring high was Carla Eckhardt with 91 points.

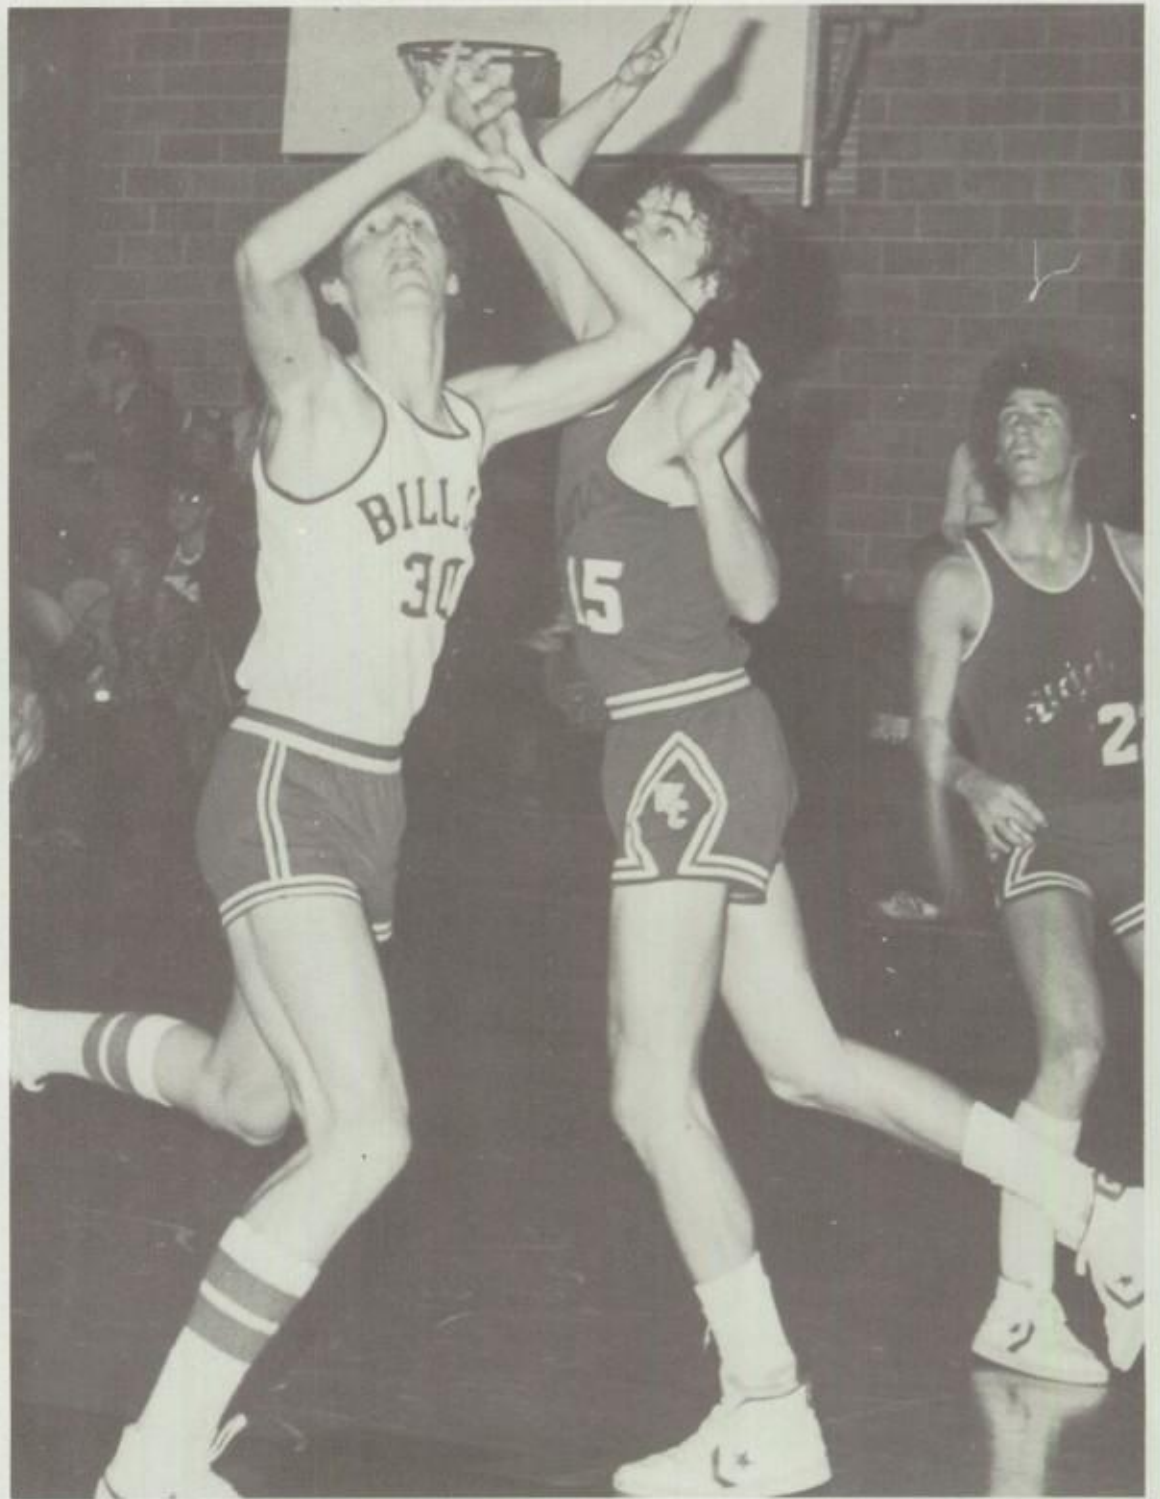

Many girls who tried out for the team were not on the traveling squad. Gay Nell Vestal, Christina Salinas, Sandra Hahn, and Connie Stevenson were of great assistance to the team.

Boys Varsity improves its skills'

The boys Varsity Basketball Team has improved its skills throughout the season Coach Mike Wolf said. The season record for this year was wins 11 and loses 16. "The toughest team we played was probably South San West," he added. The most points scored for the season was 15 points per game scored by Mark Lindig. He also led in the most rebounds. Trey Waldrip took the most steals. Named to the All-West Zone 13-AAA team are Nathan Stehling, Larry Wunderlich, Murray Lord, and Mark Lindig. Coach Wolf concluded, "I enjoy coaching and working with these boys," he also added. "They're a great bunch of guys to work with."

The Junior Varsity team has improved greatly since their Freshman year. The team had six wins this year compared to one last year. Coach Calvin Yarbrough comments, "I was really pleased with the team this year. We had a lot of talent and I have to give this group a lot of credit."

Bryan Jordan Sophomore adds, "We did a lot better than last year. The team really came together."

The Junior Varsity team had two major difficulties to overcome. "I was teaching a new defense to the group this year. It was hard to start off a season that way," explains Coach Yarbrough.

"We were physically out matched," comments Dwayne Wierich Sophomore. Coach Yarbrough adds, "Most teams had a kid or two 6'4" or 6'5". Although we usually overcame the height advantage."

The team was at its best in the latter part of the season. Coach Yarbrough expressed his feelings, "I was really pleased with the way we finished the season. The team came back and beat many of the teams that beat them in the first round. I feel the team will continue to improve."

Freshmen boast 9-3 record

"We had a good team and a good year. I think we did pretty good this season," comments Tommy Loth, freshman. Coach Felts says, "We had a 9-3 season. We lost to Kerrville twice and to Marble Falls once. I feel like we should have won against Marble Falls, but that game was right after the Christmas holidays causing us to be a little rusty and a few of the team members were sick." "In the second Kerrville game we lost in overtime. In another minute we would have been able to wrap it up, but Marble Falls was definitely rough competition," says Jesse Sanchez, freshman team member.

"The team was really terrific this year and I see a lot of good athletes coming out of this group," concludes Coach Felts.

Four regional qualifiers, five named to the "West Texas Best" list and high finishes in most of their track meets were proof that this year's team, coached by Mrs. Carol Nunez, was improved.

Qualifying for regional were Martha Pyka in the 880, Deanne Heinen and Susan Murphy, high jump; and Barbara Kott, discus. At the competition in Corpus Christi, Martha placed fourth, Deanne was unable to attend due to illness but Susan won third, and Barbara was sixth in discus.

Named to the "West Texas Best" list compiled by the San Angelo Standard-Times were Murphy, Kott, Pyka, Chrissy Schmidt and Geraldine Kott.

The team finished better in every meet, winning third place at Uvalde and second at New Braunfels Canyon to end the season. Earlier they had placed ninth at Mason and fifth at Kerrville.

"The team always strived for improvement," Coach Nunez said, "and there are many promising athletes this year who will be stronger next year." Next year the team will also be under new direction as Coach Nunez resigned to take a position at Peterson Junior High in Kerrville. Coach Nunez had been at FHS since 1976.

Rain hampers track efforts

At best, anyone who goes out for track lets himself in for a lot of hard work.

Practices don't have the "gung-ho" atmosphere of football season. The trackman usually runs alone or practices virtually by himself. And a lot of the people who like track like it for that reason.

With more people into jogging and other more personal kinds of physical fitness exercises, lots of people are learning what the track man knew all along.

A person who runs, or throws the shot, or hurdles, gets his satisfaction from trying to outdo himself. Track meets are fun, and a chance to see how you stack up against others. But the main reason people go out for track is to meet some kind of personal goal.

This year's track team had to overcome more than personal obstacles. An extremely rainy spring kept the team from getting a lot of necessary practice in early meets. "I really feel that we peaked the week after district, which was too late," said Coach A. J. Loth.

The track season had several bright spots, though. One was a JV team that placed first in district, and senior Larry Wunderlich qualified for regional in the 440.

All that strain and pressure put Larry Wunderlich into first place in the 440 dash and then went on to Regional where he placed sixth. (Photo by Kenneth Schmidt)

A "near miss" season is how Coach David Mayfield described the Billie Varsity's 12-9 record.

Combining hitting with pitching was usually the problem — in games where FHS scored plenty of hits, the pitchers allowed a lot of opposition hits, in games with near no-hitter pitching, the bats didn't come through.

JV players were coached by Coach Calvin Yarbrough.

Golf teams gain participation

For girls, it's a family affair

More boys than ever were out for the golf team. Since only five can play at any one time in a tournament, increased participation meant that Coach Rick Wilson had a large pool of talent to draw on. For freshmen team members, it meant a year of gaining experience for future seasons. The male golfers finished seventh in the district.

On the feminine side of the golf team, the five-person group shared only three last names among them. Sisters Janie and Sherry Schneider and cousins Peggy and Leslie Klinkseik made up four of the five team members. Freshman Kay Neffendorf rounded out the group.

For the fourth time in as many years, the girls team advanced to the state tournament, finishing fifth in the state for the second consecutive year.

Netters have rainy season

A rainy spring meant tennis players needed galoshes sometimes more than they needed their tennis racquets. Several matches throughout the season were rained out and as a result, Coach Terry Bonn felt, the team just didn't have the experience in competition that they really needed.

The team had dual matches with San Antonio Southwest, Comfort, and Boerne, and participated in the Kerrville, New Braunfels Canyon and Marble Falls Tournaments.

In district competition, six teams went to the quarterfinals but no one qualified for regional.

Ag uppermost for Mr. Green

Because of the many opportunities available in the field of agriculture, Mr. Roger Green decided to make it his career.

Now he spends his days trying to point out the benefits and opportunities of an agriculturally-related career to others.

Mr. Green came to FHS in 1976. He got his degree from Texas Tech and says he chose a career in teaching because "I enjoy working with people." "I wanted to live in a small community, the work is a lot of fun and the competition is challenging," he added.

Mr. Green says ag courses in high school "offer leadership, competition and travel" to interested students. Contests have taken Mr. Green and his students as far away as Kansas City, Mo. and as close to home as Boerne.

Pat Seeds — sports lover

Sports — either participating or spectating — occupies most of Miss Pat Seeds' time.

Miss Seeds, girls basketball coach and physical education teacher at FHS since 1971, enjoys watching the best sportsmen at work when she's not training athletes herself. She attended the Olympic Games in Mexico City and in Montreal.

She has also visited almost every state and her interests range into art and craft work as well. She flew to Chicago to see the King Tut exhibit when it was there. She also paints and does craft work of her own. She has even sold some of her work.

Miss Seeds resigned in the spring of this year and hopes to be pursuing some other type of work in the fall. During her tenure, girls basketball grew from a curiosity to a team that drew as much interest and as many spectators as the boys. She coached teams to regional and district games with frequency during her eight years here.

Although this year's varsity basketball team finished lower than in the past, Miss Seeds said she feels their record will improve next year.

They make it work 'right'

Keeping the school running smoothly is the job of Principal Rex Glover and Vice Principal Mike Wuest.

Mr. Glover, who has been at the high school for five years, handles personnel matters. He interviews teachers for positions and takes care of resignations. It is his job to make sure the faculty members are doing their jobs.

He also is the man in charge of the high school budget and the day-to-day scheduling of events around the school.

Mr. Wuest, new at FHS this year, supervised the maintenance of the campus and buildings. He takes care of discipline matters and writes out absentee slips. Among other things, he also sets up graduation, and handles the ordering of senior rings, invitations and caps and gowns.

Mrs. Ann Henk and Mrs. Jean West are the people who may type up your tests, among other things they do all kinds of work; for instance, they answer the telephone and take messages, run errands, type and dictate.

Mrs. Henk has charge of the day to day attendance records of each student. She also handles all of Mr. Glover's correspondence and filing. Mrs. West does typing for the faculty, and keeps the books for student activities. Mrs. West is the secretary of Assistant Principal Mr. Mike Wuest.

On the custodial Staff are: Mr. Roman Mosel, Head Custodian, Mr. Cipriano Partida, Mr. Jerome Staudt, Mr. Martin Laumann.

It all starts about 5:30 a.m. every morning. The lunch room ladies begin to prepare the dinner lunch for the students and faculty. It is a hard eight hour job for them. They prepare many kinds of food; you have your choice of 2 meats, 2 vegetables, fruit, milk, bread.

Every day they fix approximately 150 plates here at high school and approximately 880 plates at Primary and Middle Schools. Fixing all these plates are four cooks. These cooks help each other out and have their own duties. The lunch room spends around $9,500 on food monthly. For the $.60 you pay, you get a nutritious meal and plenty of food to last you the whole day.

If you are wondering where they get most of their meat and vegetables, it comes from Frostex a place in Austin that brings the frozen food here.

If you are low on a budget, remember that the lunchroom gives you a great deal for your $.60.

The lunchroom ladies are: Right to left: Ms. Doreen Smith, Ms. Ramona Cancino, Ms. Arnett Straube, Ms. Irene Loth, and the Supervisor, Ms. Lee Macias.

Funniest . . .

Seniors often reflect upon incidents that have occurred during their high school years. They were asked "What is the funniest incident that has happened since you have been in high school?"

Mona Borchers: "When Jacque Vogel and I had eraser fights in Mr. (Andy) Schmidt's room."

Larry Beyer: "When Sammy Klaerner and I put a tack in Mr. (August) Faltin's chair."

Waldeen Wallendorf: "When Brenda Klein and I got caught in the boys' bathroom."

Mary Lynn Schumann: "When somebody stuck a banana on my car antenna."

Experience results from Comet

"Being editor of the Comet has been a good experience for me," said Jacque Vogel, senior.

Jacque has been on the Campus Comet staff for three years. She was photo editor her sophomore year and managing editor her junior year before she became editor her senior year.

"I got into journalism because I thought it would be fun. I was also considering it as a career," said Jacque.

She has placed 3rd and 5th in newswriting in the UIL (University Interscholastic League) district meet the last two years.

Jacque has also been a member of the band since she was in the fifth grade. She began playing the flute but later switched to the piccolo.

"I joined the band because it is known as a good organization," Jacque said.

"I will probably never continue with music, but being in band has taught me how to have pride in something you have done, leadership, and accomplishment," Jacque said.

She has been a member of three Ensembles, of which one of them received a Class I medal. In her senior year she acted as secretary of the band.

She is also active in FTA (Future Teachers of America), in which she was secretary her junior year and vice-president her senior year.

Jacque acted as secretary for the Class of '79 during her junior and senior years.

She lists her hobbies as eating, sleeping, reading, and sewing.

It's great to be a senior

Superiority is usually the word used to describe seniors. Seniors were asked, "What is your favorite thing about being a senior?"

Duane Durst: "Having priority, fewer classes to take and not having to do as much — just knowing it's your last year."

Karen Sweeney: "Looking forward to going to college."

Ida Weed: "Getting to graduate and getting out of school — I have to add that there is no respect for seniors anymore."

Shirley Kozielski: "Knowing that I don't have to come back."

James Ball: "Senior girls."

Sports make enjoyment

"I enjoy playing golf and doing other athletic things," said Janie Schneider, senior.

Janie played basketball for FHS all four of her high school years. She played on the varsity team her junior and senior years, playing the position of post.

She has also been a member of the golf team for four years. During her junior year, she played with the same team that went to state competition.

Being a member of both the basketball and golf teams takes up a lot of her spare time. She spends two hours everyday after school practicing basketball. Four to five hours are spent practicing golf.

"It's really not hard to get homework done, but I am usually so tired when I get home after a practice that I don't feel like doing anything except sleeping," commented Janie.

In whatever spare time she has, she likes to play tennis and read.

Donna Ersch: "Finally making it to the top after twelve years of school."
 Heidi Eberle: "Knowing you'll be graduating and that you're superior."
 Kim Grinke: "Finally getting out of high school."
 Doug Klein: "Getting ready to get out of high school."

Karen Kozielski: "Having more control over my own life."
 Julie Jenschke: "Getting by with things that you couldn't before."
 Victor Mohr: "All of the fun that you can have."
 Eileen Nebgen: "Getting out of school."

Donna Weber — call her zany

Most people who know Donna Weber, senior, will refer to her as being "zany."

She seems to always have a smile on her face and something nice to say. If anyone was in a bad mood, her smile would help make the day better.

She is a four-year member of the Parent-Teacher Association Honor Roll, two-year member of the National Honor Society, and a four-year member of the FHS band, in which she plays the oboe.

She lists her hobbies as playing unorganized sports (because "I'm an unorganized person") and going to concerts.

Mechanics learn lifetime career

Auto mechanics are like doctors in a way. People bring their cars into the "office" for the diagnosis, and if it is considered to be necessary, the mechanic sets up an appointment for the car to be "operated" upon.

Three seniors, Felix Casteneda, Dan Heimann, and Walter Helmers, enrolled in the auto mechanics class at FHS to learn more about this profession that they plan to pursue as a lifetime career.

Reasons for enrolling in auto mechanics vary, but these seniors take the class seriously. They want to become more than just "Saturday afternoon shade-tree mechanics."

"I'm taking auto mechanics because I want to know all of the fundamentals that will help me when I enter technical school," Felix said.

"I plan to go to technical school and major in auto mechanics," said Dan.

"This class helps you become a better mechanic," Walter said.

While others make it a past-time, they plan to make a career out of what they enjoy.

Walter Helmers: "Sneaking things by Mr. (Henry) Roos in auto mechanics."
 Virginia Klaerner: "All of the sports that I was in — basketball and track."
 David Harrison: "Always doing our homework in groups of three and four instead of one, especially in the 'Big O's' (Mr. David Osborne's) class."

Kim Meier: "Band and getting to know other people."
 Mark Eckhardt: "All of the fun I've had and all of the people I knew."
 Irene Klein: "Smoking in the bathroom and never getting caught."

Sports, classes memorable

Eckhardt serious — but not often

Although it never seems like it, Mark Eckhardt, senior, does have some serious moments . . . but not many.

"He's crazy! He'll do anything for a laugh" is what many people who know him say about him.

Probably his favorite sound to make when he is surprised or wants someone's attention is a deep guttural sound as he says, "Barr!"

On Mark's serious side, he has been a trumpet player in the band since he was in fifth grade.

"I got into band because I thought it would be fun. My sister and cousin enjoyed band so I joined," Mark said.

Mark decided to join the basketball team his senior year because "after watching the games for so many years, I decided to play."

He has also served as vice president of both the Spanish Club and the Ecology Club.

Mark plans to attend college after high school and major in business.

Band plays for fun

"Let Me Tell You the Words," "Women".

These songs may not have been on the top 40's, but they are some of the songs that the Easy Riders have written.

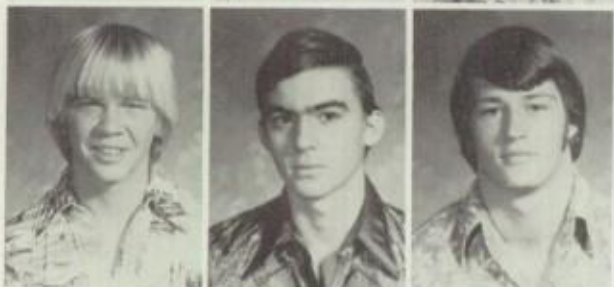

Steven Langehenning on guitar, Clyde Pehl on bass, and Dwayne Weinheimer on drums make up the bands musicians. Unfortunately the Easy Riders do not have many opportunities to play for the public, says Steven Langehenning, due to not having any jobs to play for.

The Easy Riders know they soon will have to go their own separate ways. But they hope to return some day and renew old memories.

Lu Ann plays Eve in drama

Playing the first woman is an unusual assignment, and playing it with humor is even more unusual, but that's what junior Luann Klier did this year in the one-act play, "The Diary of Adam and Eve".

"I got interested in drama because I thought it would be good experience," Luann said.

Last year she played Helen Keller's mother in "The Miracle Worker". That play took the FHS cast all the way to regional.

After next year, Luann hopes to go to college and maybe become a hostess aboard a cruise ship.

Female Mechanic

A girl who likes auto-mechanics and wants her own shop someday, has got to be crazy, you might say. But that's Sandy Welton's ambition.

She plans to go to TSTI in Waco, to further her education in mechanics. "I would recommend auto-mechanics to girls if they're interested — not just to goof around with the guys," says Sandy.

"I think Mr. Roos is a great teacher and I like this class better than any other class, she added.

As a girl in an almost all-male world Sandy finds nothing new "I've always been a tomboy."

Also taking auto-mechanics is junior Penny Schnerr.

"Being a manager can really help me in the future, especially if I have a job where I have to stock things, it will have taught me to keep things organized," he added.

Timmer's running makes him feel better

Many Americans have taken up the joyful hobby of running. According to Richard "Chip" Timmer, running makes him feel better about himself and his outlook on life. Chip first got interested in running in the seventh grade when the track program started. Chip soon worked up to where he could run to Balance Rock and back from his house. When he got into shape, he started to enter road races anywhere from 3-12 miles a race. This past year Chip ran the mile on the FHS track team.

Chip's other interests are backpacking in Colorado, and "girl watching", he says. His main objective in the future is to make the United States Olympic team in 1984 and run the 10,000 meters which is 6.2 miles.

The familiar places that we have taken for granted are the same places that bring tourists to Fredericksburg every year. Local businesses profit from the tourists' business. These businesses — whether old or new — keep us supplied with necessities and their specialities. For some of us, this Mesa will be the last permanent reminder that we will ever have of FHS and our tenure here. Others have a few more years to make the memories that they will remember for a lifetime.

Each year at FHS is unique in itself. Different events stand out in one's mind as to what happened during each year. Each year's Mesa hopefully helps FHS students and now former students relive some of the more memorable events of the past year.

The 1978 - 79 school year held a lot of events which were memorable . . . state winners in OEA, FFA, VICA, HOSA, UIL Journalism, UIL Science, and All-State Band . . . field trips — regardless of whether they took us to downtown Fredericksburg or to Austin, San Antonio, or Houston. We were representing our school and showing pride in everything we did. Whether we walked off with first place honors at state or came home empty-handed from the district and area contest, We put forth the effort which showed that we tried and made our teachers, our school, and ourselves proud.

A lot of hard work went into this school year to make it a successful one. Some had to put in extra hours of study time just to make a grade up to their expectations. Others had the pressures of due dates or deadlines which occupied their spare time. Sometimes the work just kept piling up until we began to pray for an end to it all. It wouldn't have been so bad if we had just one or two deadlines to make, but when we had those deadlines, plus three or four more and then had to prepare for contests in band, UIL, and other clubs, the work load became almost unbelievable.

When the end of the school year finally came around, a sigh of relief could be heard. The events which seemed so terrible before were forgotten, or at least they didn't seem to be as terrible as they once were. The days of drudgery seemed to blend in with the excitement and the accomplishments, making the past year not so bad after all.

The traditions of Fredericksburg High School will always be carried by most of us. Traditions like the Fredericksburg High School Band, Alter Stolz, our Alma Mater, and "Billie Pride 'uber alles!'" These are the things we will remember as well as the familiar faces who were our friends and teachers.

The 1979 Mesa staff has many people to thank for their aid and encouragement in making this Mesa a reality. The photography classes come to mind almost immediately. They followed our assignments, printed pictures, and sometimes had to retake pictures because the negatives were misplaced. A special thanks goes to photographers Kenneth Schmidt, Sheila Tatsch, Wendy Walendorf, Pam Waldrip, and Jacque Vogel who went above and beyond the call of duty to see to it that necessary pictures were taken and printed. A very special thanks goes to Mr. Terry Collier for all the help he gave us with pictures whenever we goofed.

We'd like to also thank all the teachers who helped us identify people in pictures, set up pictures, and obtain the pertinent information for the copy on each spread. Many times we returned for additional help, but they were patient and continued to help us out.

Also, we want to thank Steve Thomas for taking our cover design idea and making it into something even better than we had ever planned for it to be. He helped show that tradition is important to FHS and is what makes FHS unique and will always have a special place in our hearts.

Our yearbook representative, Mr. Jim Anderson of Taylor Publishing Company, deserves more than just a simple "thank you" for all of his help and encouragement. He gave us ideas, and showed us different techniques that we could use to make the 1979 Mesa a very special book. To all the others who encouraged and aided us in making the 1979 Mesa a reality — the advertisers, the students, and the administration — we also say "thank you." We also apologize for any errors we might have inadvertently made in the index, class section, or club pictures.

As you go your way and we go ours, we will always have this Mesa to bring us back together through the memories of the past.

The 1979 Mesa Staff
